How we do it

Exciting classic design, power and modern technologies – give birth to a quality worthy of a demanding customer. The heart of Varango is an original vintage project of the American boat, which has a history of over 70 years. Modern materials and technologies allow to speed up the production and improve the quality of a boat built according to classical canons.

Vinta is a real old-timer built by us today. A combination of beauty, expensive materials, handmade energy and modern technology. This boat is a creature for a person who appreciates exclusivity and high-quality work.

Our team, inspired by attention to quality and detail, is ready to give its client the best! An original project, recreated by our team, with precision and attention to detail. Careful selection of materials, adherence to production technologies, and of course genuine satisfaction with working on projects - the main principles of our team.
